A | Animal Rescue: Adopt A Shelter Pet

With this pane of 20 stamps depicting formerly homeless dogs and cats, the U.S. Postal Service hopes to raise awareness of the need to adopt shelter pets. Keyword: Shelter Pets

Beyond the Perf

On rare occasions my dad talks about World War II and how he dreamed every day of coming back home to America.

In The Wizard of Oz, Dorothy clicks her ruby slippers together and chants, "There's no place like home."

I also look forward to coming home. The first thing I hear when I open the door is a tail thumping against the floor. It's Brenna, our newly adopted nine-year-old Irish Setter, saying hello.

"I'm so glad you're home," she says with her wagging body. "You are the most wonderful person in the world!" Brenna's energy is contagious. I forget about my work, grab her leash, and off we go on a new adventure. All the troubles of the world just magically float away.

When art director Derry Noyes called to discuss a new Postal Service stamp project that would promote the idea of adopting shelter pets, I jumped at the chance to work with her again. Derry knew that I had been photographing shelter and rescue pets and writing their stories since our collaboration on the 2002 Neuter & Spay stamps. This new project would be extra special to me.

I find it heartbreaking that millions of innocent animals are signed over to shelters and rescue groups every year—not because they're problem pets; their families simply couldn't keep them. The reasons are endless: job changes, illness, foreclosure, kids going away to school.

My local shelter now has a waiting list for pets to get in because the shelter is full. The loveable pets there are eagerly waiting for a new home to brighten their lives and yours. Adopting will also provide a vacant cage for another homeless pet.

I hope you will enjoy using the Animal Rescue: adopt a shelter pet stamps and will consider visiting a local shelter for your next pet, who might just be channeling Dorothy and thinking, "There's no place like a 'forever' home."

A self-supporting government enterprise, the U.S. Postal Service is the only delivery service that reaches every address in the nation, 150 million residences, businesses and Post Office Boxes. The Postal Service receives no direct support from taxpayers. With 36,000 retail locations and the most frequently visited website in the federal government, the Postal Service relies on the sale of postage, products and services to pay for operating expenses. Named the Most Trusted Government Agency five consecutive years and the sixth Most Trusted Business in the nation by the Ponemon Institute, the Postal Service has annual revenue of more than $68 billion and delivers nearly half the world's mail. If it were a private sector company, the U.S. Postal Service would rank 26th in the 2008 Fortune 500.

ABSTRACT EXPRESSIONISTS

The abstract expressionists revolutionized art and moved the U.S. to the center of the international art scene during the 1940s and 1950s. Based primarily in New York City, this group of artists with radically different styles created a new visual language based on color, motion, and the expression of universal truths. In the process, they transformed the act of painting into a means of self-discovery, which was both uniquely American and utterly new.

A The Simpsons

With these stamps, the U.S. Postal Service recognizes The Simpsons, the longest-running prime time comedy in American television history. Marking their 20th anniversary as a regularly scheduled half-hour show, this celebrated series remains a groundbreaking and innovative entertainment franchise, recognizable throughout the world. Cartoonist Matt Groening created the infamous Simpson family: Homer, Marge, Bart, Lisa and Maggie Simpson—all now identifiable by their silhouettes alone. For this project the Postal Service was pleased to use original artwork created by Groening.

Proceeds from the sale of the Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp (the Federal Duck Stamp) fund the acquisition of wetlands and wildlife habitat for the National Wildlife Refuge System. Since its inception in 1934, the Federal Duck Stamp Program has generated more than $700 million for the preservation of some five million acres of American wetlands.

Proceeds from the sale of Junior Duck Stamps are used to support a national art and environmental education curriculum for students in grades K-12. The first-place national winning design is selected from the Best in Show designs from each of the fifty states, the District of Columbia and U.S. territories.
